INTRODUCTION

“Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature” (Mark 16:15). When Jesus departed from the earth to return to the presence of the Father, He gave this commission to His disciples. It remains the great work of the people of God.

Every believer has at least a rudimentary knowledge of the Gospel of God, since that is the instrument by which we are brought to our salvation in Christ. Salvation is not limited to the theologians but is understandable to the simplest child. At the same time, the work of salvation is an infinite masterpiece of the transcendent God. It is a revelation of God Himself in which He bridges the great gulf between the holy Trinity and vile humanity in such a way that His glory is magnified. In a real sense, the Gospel is the sum and substance of the entire Bible as it finds its focal point in the Son of God, our Lord Jesus Christ. It is the lifelong duty of the people of God to diligently seek a more complete understanding of Christ Jesus Who is the Gospel personified. The more deeply we understand this glorious Gospel, the more we will be like our Savior and the better we will be able to fulfill the Great Commission.

There is no better source for an understanding of the Gospel than the Epistle of Paul to the Romans. The letter to the Roman church is commonly considered to be “the most complete statement of the doctrine of salvation that you can find anyplace in the Word of God” (L. D. Custis, “The Message,” February 7, 1982). In it, salvation is presented clearly and systematically with an emphasis upon the righteousness of God. Paul began with a description of the horrible moral condition of mankind as willingly sinful and hostile to God. Because God is righteous, man is justly condemned and under the wrath of God. This condemnation falls equally upon both amoral pagan and moral Jew. “All have sinned, and come short of the glory of God” (Romans 3:23). But the Gospel is good news. What is unattainable by human effort is provided by God Himself in the sacrifice of Jesus Christ. He satisfied the justice of God and provides God’s righteousness to all who believe on Him. All sinners who are justified by grace now have peace with the Righteous One. If that is not enough, Paul showed that justified saints can live righteously by the Holy Spirit within us. Furthermore, our destiny is certain. God, Who has not withheld His Only Begotten Son, will not allow anything to separate us from His love. The glorification of the believer is assured.

A major theme in Romans is the sovereignty of God. This is fundamental to the work of salvation. Paul skillfully proved this in the middle section of the letter. It is God alone Who decides to whom He will extend His mercy. Sinful man cannot obligate a righteous God. This truth is illustrated in the history of God’s people. The nation Israel was separated from the nations to receive the blessing of God. They spurned God and were set aside. But rather than show the impotence of God, this is further evidence of His sovereignty as God uses the fall of Israel to bring His blessing to the Gentiles. Furthermore, He promises even greater blessing to the world when Israel will be restored by His sovereign grace. It is no wonder that Paul exults in “...the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God” (Romans 11:33).

Paul concluded the letter to the church at Rome with instruction and exhortation in living as redeemed saints. Since we have been justified, we must “...present (our) bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God” (Romans 12:1). Without minimizing the sovereign grace of God in our salvation, Paul calls believers to respond to the truth of the Gospel in such a way that Jesus Christ is displayed and God is glorified by our daily lives. Imputed righteousness must become experienced righteousness.

Another response is required. We must proclaim this Gospel message. To help us remember the main elements of the Gospel that we might more readily preach the Gospel, the memory assignments in this book have been arranged in the format of a catechism. A catechism is a summary of truth expressed in a question and answer format. Questions about the Gospel are asked and then answered by texts from Romans. This “Catechism of the Gospel of God” will help us learn the fundamentals of the Gospel message.

May God bless and grant us a deeper understanding of the grandeur of the Gospel that we might be holy in daily living and faithful in preaching the Gospel to a sinful and rebellious generation.

MEMORY ASSIGNMENT: A GOSPEL CATECHISM

1. Why is the Gospel “good news”?

— Romans 1:16-17 —

For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ:
for it is the power of God unto salvation
to every one that believeth;
to the Jew first, and also to the Greek.

For therein is the righteousness of God
revealed from faith to faith:
as it is written, The just shall live by faith.

2. What does everyone know about God?

— Romans 1:20 —

For the invisible things of him
from the creation of the world
are clearly seen,
being understood by the things that are made,
even his eternal power and Godhead;
so that they are without excuse.

3. What does the Bible say about the condition of everyone?

— Romans 3:23 —

For all have sinned,
and come short of the glory of God.

4. Does anyone seek or understand God?

— Romans 3:10-11 —

As it is written,
There is none righteous, no, not one:

There is none that understandeth,
there is none that seeketh after God.

5. How did we all become sinners?

— Romans 5:12 —

Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world,
and death by sin;
and so death passed upon all men,
for that all have sinned.

6. What is the result of sin?

— Romans 6:23 —

For the wages of sin is death;
but the gift of God is eternal life
through Jesus Christ our Lord.

7. How does God show His love for sinners?

— Romans 5:8 —

But God commendeth his love toward us,
in that, while we were yet sinners,
Christ died for us.

8. How can a sinner become righteous?

— Romans 3:24 —

Being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus.

9. How can a sinner be saved?

— Romans 10:9 —

That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart
that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved.

10. What is the result of faith in Jesus Christ?

— Romans 5:1 —

Therefore being justified by faith,
we have peace with God
through our Lord Jesus Christ.

11. How can a believer live a righteous life?

— Romans 6:4 —

Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death:
that like as Christ was raised up from the dead
by the glory of the Father,
even so we also should walk in newness of life.

12. What is the believer's hope?

— Romans 8:16-17 —

The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit,
that we are the children of God:

And if children, then heirs;
heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ;
if so be that we suffer with him,
that we may be also glorified together.

13. Why can a believer have confidence in God?

— Romans 8:31-32 —

What shall we then say to these things?
If God be for us, who can be against us?

He that spared not his own Son,
but delivered him up for us all,
how shall he not with him also freely give us all things?

14. What is the believer's response to this salvation?

— Romans 12:1-2 —

I beseech you therefore, brethren,
by the mercies of God,
that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice,
holy, acceptable unto God,
which is your reasonable service.

And be not conformed to this world:
but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind,
that ye may prove what is that good,
and acceptable, and perfect, will of God.

Outline of the Epistle of Paul to the Romans

L. Dwight Custis

- I. INTRODUCTION (1:1-17). Paul introduces himself and his message. The theme of the epistle is stated in Romans 1:16-17. It is the Gospel.
- II. THE MESSAGE OF THE EPISTLE (1:18-15:33)
 - A. INDOCTRINATION (1:18-8:38). This passage of Scripture gives us the most complete statement of salvation to be found any place in the Word of God. Paul begins by showing man's great need because of sin, and then goes on to show how God has met that need through the Lord Jesus Christ.
 1. CONDEMNATION (1:18-3:20). Paul shows why man is under the judgment of God, and why he will experience the wrath of God.
 2. SALVATION (3:21-8:30). All three aspects of salvation are included: what God has done for those who are saved, what He is doing, and what He will do in the future. These are discussed in order under the following headings.
 - a. JUSTIFICATION (3:21-5:21). It is by faith that man is declared righteous before God, and thus is delivered from sin's penalty.
 - b. SANCTIFICATION (6:1-8:17). Salvation also includes present deliverance for the believer from the power of sin in daily life.
 - c. GLORIFICATION (8:18-30). Present salvation includes the guarantee of our final deliverance from the very presence of sin in our lives.
 3. SUMMARIZATION (8:31-39). On the basis of what he has written from Romans 3:21, he now shows the assurance that is ours.
 - B. CORRELATION (9:1-11:36). From Paul's emphasis on the fact that "there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek," we have these three chapters explaining God's plan for the Jew in the present dispensation, and his future purpose for the nation Israel.
 - C. APPLICATION (12:1-15:33). This section gives practical instructions which show the application of the doctrine of the epistle to the daily life of the child of God.
- III. CONCLUSION (16:1-27). The final chapter is given over to various salutations and concludes with a benediction.
